

Travel during the Edo Period Comes Back to Life

During the Edo Period, the Tokaido was the most important route connecting Edo and the Kyoto-Osaka area.

People, merchandise and information traveled along this route.

There were 53 rest stations along the Tokaido Route, Futagawa Shuku was the 33rd station along the route.

Experience Edo period travel by visiting the Honjin, the inn for lords, and Hatagoya, inn for commoners.

Information

❖ Transportation Guide

1km to the East from the North Exit of the JR Tokaido Honsen Futagawa Station

⊙ Free parking for 100 cars

⊙ Parking for large buses available at No.2 Parking Lot

- ❖ Open Hours 9:30 ~ 17:00
(Admission by 16:30)
- ❖ Closed Days Mondays (If Monday falls on a national holiday, closed on the following day)
December 29 ~ January 3
- ❖ Admission Fee Adults 400 yen (320 yen)
Students (excluding college students) ... 100 yen (80 yen)

* () is the admission fee for groups of more than 30 persons and for advance tickets.

(Advance tickets are valid from the day following the purchase)

* Free admission to those holding Toyohashi City Senior Citizen's badge, Silver Invitational Card, Physical Disability Certificate, Special Care Certificate or Mental Disability Certificate

Information on Tea Ceremony

Enjoy Matcha (traditional Japanese green tea) in the Edo-period atmosphere of the Omoya (main house)

● 300 yen per person (with Matcha tea and a sweet)

● Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Including substitute holidays)
10:30 ~ 16:00

Toyohashi City Futagawa Shuku Honjin Museum

65 Aza Naka-machi, Futagawa-cho, Toyohashi City 441-3155

TEL 0532-41-8580 FAX 0532-41-8940

URL <http://www.toyohaku.gr.jp/honjin>

Toyohashi City Futagawa Shuku Honjin Museum

